

GOVERNMENT COST MUST COME DOWN

Sarig In Favor Of Salary Cuts For Legislators

Democratic Representative From Berks County, Champions Economic Program

Thinks Legislature Should Set Example And Put Own House In Order First

By WILSON G. SARIG
Representative From Berks County,
Written Expressly For International News Service.

TEMPLE, Pa., Dec. 17.—In complying with a request for a statement on my views on legislative matters, I wish to make it very clear that these are my personal views and do not necessarily represent the views of the Democratic legislative committee of which I am a member, since that committee has not yet acted on or decided on a program. I believe that the economy program will become the leading feature of the session. I am in favor of beginning the economy program by reducing the salaries of the members of the legislature from $3,000 to $2,500, a reduction of 16.2-3 per cent. The legislature should follow this up by cutting out all frills and unnecessary jobs such as doorkeepers, etc., in its own organization.

Are Underpaid.
Compared to other state officials, both elective and appointive, the members of the legislature are now underpaid.

But the whole cost of government must come down.

By showing a good example in setting its own house in order first, the legislature will be in a much stronger position to demand economies and the cutting out of a lot of dead wood all along the line.

I favor a graduated cut in state salaries. The heavy cuts should be in the higher brackets. In some of the lower brackets there should be no cuts at all. I do not believe in cutting wages or salaries below a fair living standard.

There are a number of state activities that can, without harm to the people, be cut out entirely. Others are duplicated.

The Sterling committee was created by the legislature to make a complete survey of all state activities, showing work now done and at what cost.

Decisions On Facts.
I propose to study that report carefully as well as the reports from the departments affected before making final decisions on economy.

I am not interested in any factional squabbles and will base my decisions on facts.

I favor adequate unemployment relief the same as in past sessions. The amount required will depend upon what share, if any, the federal government will assume during the present session of congress.

I also favor the old age pension amendment. The closing of the doors of industry to men and women above middle age makes this imperative.

I will vote to increase the power of the public service commission so that it can deal effectively with the holding company evil, as well as minor evils.

I will vote for the repeal of the Snyder-Armstrong law.

I am opposed to new or additional taxes. I am convinced that an economy program sincerely carried out will make new taxes unnecessary.

big game. The latter, it being his first occasion of this kind, brought back a nine point buck and his father was successful in bagging an eight point buck.

No concrete base for the brick paving on the widened portion of East Washington street was laid today owing to weather conditions. As soon as the weather moderates to such a degree that the concrete will not freeze, the balance of the base will be laid.

No session of council was held today for the purpose of trying to fix the appropriations for the operation of the city government next year. They have a difficult job and will try to "make the suit from the cloth available" as one said recently.

Today is pay day for city employees. They drew their wages for the first half of December. The officials of the city will not receive their December wages until early January. Officials are paid once monthly.

Christmas shopping was given a big impetus in the stores of New Castle today. There were quite a large number of visitors in the city from the outlying districts this afternoon, it appeared to a casual observer.

In the churches of the city on Sunday the first of the Christmas exercises will be presented. Most of the churches, apparently, are delaying the presentation of Christmas cantatas, etc., until Christmas day, which is one week from Sunday. Many Sunday school entertainments will be presented during the coming week.

Colleagues are beginning to arrive in the city for the holidays. New Castle has quite an army of students in colleges and universities around the country, despite the depression. It is evident.

Employees at the post office are preparing for the big rush. It is expected that the holiday rush will get under way early next week at the local post office, and plans have been made accordingly.

Police To Help Library Collect Over-Due Books

Police Going Out Today To Visit Borrowers Not Returning Books

The public library has secured the collaboration of the city police in collection of over-due books from people who have been given due notice.

A number of local people, although having been given two postal cards reminding them of their neglect to return books long due and a letter requesting return of said books, have not reported to the library.

Names of these people from whom no response has been forthcoming have been furnished the police department. Today a police car and officers will visit the addresses and make investigations.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Fellow Rotarian:
We will have our Christmas program on Monday and you are requested to bring a toy of some description. These inexpensive gifts will be given to children who might otherwise not get a visit from Santa Claus. In the words of the "Happy Warrior," no child should be allowed to think that Santa won't come because dad is out of work.

We will listen to a Christmas address by Rev. Norris White of the First M. E. Church and will also have special Christmas music.

French Demands
PARIS, Dec. 17.—Any new French cabinet will agree to pay the December debt installment to the United States only upon agreement by Washington to negotiate for complete revision of the debt settlement.

This was made clear this afternoon when the powerful Socialist party notified Joseph Paul-Boncour, who is seeking to form a new ministry, that it would not join him unless he gave definite assurances along that line. Conservative parties on the extreme right have already taken a similar stand.

(International News Service)
ST. MALO, France, Dec. 17.—The hopes of Victor Smith, 19-year-old South African flier, for breaking the record set by Amy Johnson and Mollison on a flight from London to Cape Town were set back today after he was forced to "bail out" when his plane got out of control and crashed.

Scouts To Enter Bird House Meet

Lawrence County Garden Club Seeks Champion Builder Among Boys

From now until February 4, 1933, many a New Castle Boy Scout will turn his thoughts to bird house building. The Lawrence County Garden club's worthwhile cash prizes for the best, announced today, give them plenty of reason to.

Three divisions, those of bird feeding stations, wren or bluebird houses and another for building Martin houses, will be open for entry by the boys.

Each of the three types of projects are to be completed for by the two classes of boys, namely a group from 12 to 14 and another from 15 to 17. Entries must be completed and registered on or before February 4, 1933.

Judges for the contest are to be chosen later from among the Garden club membership.

Heading the scout rules committee is Harry W. Miles, chairman; A. S. Hainsworth and E. D. Hawk.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING ON HOME STRETCH

trick appliances, clothing, candies, perfumes, jewelry and the thousand and one other articles that make appropriate gifts are down in price and a dollar this year will buy a present that three dollars wouldn't have bought three years ago.

The weather showed signs of moderating at noon and this was expected to increase trade. Zero weather cools a lot of Christmas ardor, but with the thermometer making a valiant endeavor to climb out of the slough of despond, the barometer of sales showed a rising curve.

Useful Gifts
Useful gifts seem to be the mode for Christmas buying this year for adults, with of course the usual sales of games, toys and books for youngsters. Less grimy and more useful things seem to be the running orders and while the shopping up until today has not been what it might have been, today shows a healthy increase which the merchants hope will be continued all of next week.

Major Adams to have Captain J. Oftedahl of the Butler barracks come to New Castle and get the matter adjusted.

The committee met with Captain Oftedahl in the office of Mayor Charles B. Mayne and found the new commander of Troop D perfectly willing to co-operate in any manner he could. Captain Oftedahl heard the request of the committee and said he would urge Major Adams to authorize a detail of three men for New Castle.

Captain Oftedahl did exactly as he said he would, and his recommendation was accepted by Mayor Adams and the detail authorized for New Castle. Unforeseen emergencies in the past two weeks are the only reason why the detail will not be here on December 20.

However, they will be on duty in New Castle on January 1, 1933 according to Captain Oftedahl, and the very fact that they are stationed here is expected as a deterrent to much of the crime.

When crime is committed the State Police are usually able to run down the culprits. There is a tradition among the Pennsylvania State Police similar to that of the Royal Northwest Mounted and unprejudiced observers have said that the Pennsylvania State Police are even more efficient as officers than the Mounties.

QUOTA CLUB HONORS PRESIDENT AT PARTY

One of the most delightful social gatherings of the week was the surprise party that New Castle Quota club members gave for their president, Miss Mary Otterdinger, at her apartment on Wallace avenue Thursday evening.

Since it was in the form of a Christmas dinner, the members also surprised each other in the artistic and delicious banquet they prepared and served at 6:30 o'clock. A miniature Christmas tree stood in the center of the table with tall red candles in holly holders at each end. Gifts surrounded the tree for everyone, and due to the fact they were all returned at the close of the entertainment to the committee in charge of the Christmas for the Crawford-Oakridge home.

A short business meeting was held and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing bridge. Eighteen members participated.

The next gathering of New Castle Quota club will be held at the Castleton hotel as usual on Tuesday, January 10.

SLEIGHING PARTY PROVES A DELIGHT

Not to be disappointed in the winter's entertainment of a "sleighbing" party the members of Mrs. Ira Landis' class of the First Baptist church assembled at the church Friday evening, and amid much jollification the members were all piled into a truck, which was filled with straw, and by the jingling of a few bells and the use of an imagination the group could vision an old fashioned sled skimming over the snow as they sped to the home of Dorothy Moore at Moravia.

After the group arrived at the Moore home, their voices husky from the singing of Christmas carols on the way out, Mrs. Moore served a most delicious hot lunch after which the group exchanged gifts and enjoyed a merry evening of wholesome fun.

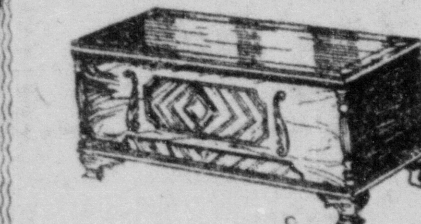

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Stark were special guests.

As Santa delivered the last gift someone peeped under the whiskers and there was the jovial countenance of "Stan" Treser.

CHRISTMAS PARTY OF TRIANGLE CLUB

Unusually delightful was the Blue Triangle club's party of Friday night in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A. The party was attended by a number of special guests and members numbering 20 in all.

A feature of the early part of the evening was the splendid reading, "The Other Wise Man," offered by Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, president of the Y. W. C. A. board.

After the singing of Christmas carols several screens were drawn aside revealing a uniquely decorated table. At each place were Santa Claus made of red apples with white cotton belts, white cotton heads, beards and caps. Christmas trees had been modeled from different colored candy. These were all the handiwork of Miss Eva Bricker, one of the club members.

The program of the evening was in charge of Miss Alice Joyce, chairman of the program committee.

Here's the Way to Control Those Miserable Colds So Prevalent Here Now

With Flu Spreading From the West, Authorities
Urge Extra Precaution Against Colds

THE so-called Flu, or epidemic of colds, which started on the West Coast a month ago, is spreading rapidly over the country. However, there appears no immediate cause for alarm. In its present form, this year's Flu is generally mild and sometimes lasts only four or five days.

But take no chances! Colds pull down body resistance and often pave the way for pneumonia and other serious complications. For greatest safety and protection, follow Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds. Briefly, the Plan is this:

TO BUILD RESISTANCE: Live normally—don't worry. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eliminate regularly. Drink lots of water. Eat light, wholesome food.

TO PREVENT MANY COLDS: At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks' Nose & Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. This will check many colds at the nose and throat—where most colds start.

TO END A COLD SOONER: If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. Rest as much as possible, preferably in bed. Take a mild laxative, if needed. At bedtime, apply Vicks VapoRub for its direct, double action while you sleep. During the day, use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops for added comfort and relief while you work.

THE ISOLATION OF FRANCE

WITH only a "ghost" Government for the time being—that is, one which can not deal with large issues of policy—the action of the French Chamber of Deputies in voting for repudiation of the debt payment to the United States remains for the present, at least, unchanged. M. Herriot has refused to resume his post as Premier, though M. Tardieu has said that the new Ministry must be of the same complexion as the last. It is interesting to note that 376 members of the Left bloc contributed to the 402 votes in favor of repudiation. Thus those who were supposed to be M. Herriot's firmest supporters deserted him.

Of course the issue is not settled comments the Philadelphia Inquirer. The reaction both here and in England to the vote of the Chamber is likely to cause members "furious" to think. Quite as important to France as American resentment is the possibility of a complete breach in the accord with England. M. Herriot warned the Chamber of this danger, but it did not choose to heed him. That he was right is plain enough. Although the members of the British Government carefully refrained from discussing the French action, others were not so reticent. Mr. Churchill took the occasion to tell Ministers that they had done everything wrong, although he defended Mr. Baldwin from attack for making the original agreement; while Mr. Lloyd George expressed his sympathy with the French position—"no parley, no pay." But Mr. Chamberlain's just and careful statement of the case nevertheless carried the House with him.

Some of the more serious aspects of the French default are recounted by the German press. It is, they hold, a breach of the sanctity of treaties on which France has been so insistent. If France will not carry out her agreements to pay, why should Germany? Thus not only the Lausanne Conference is scrapped, but also the Treaty of Versailles. The French mind is too logical not to perceive the force of this contention.

AIR LANES COME FIRST

Aviation and motor traffic offer some interesting contrasts and comparisons when the several stages in their development are studied side by side. Any such study must show that aviation can learn little from motor traffic on land.

Aviation has reversed the course followed by the good roads and commercial bus and truck traffic came after the popularization of the motor car.

Charted and lighted airways and adequate landing facilities had to come before commercial transportation by air, and the popularization of aircraft for private transportation will come last of all. This is aviation's greatest handicap.

One advantage aviation now has over motor traffic is that while the latter taxes highway facilities beyond their capacity, the highways of the air are developed far ahead of present traffic needs.

UNLUCKY EXCEED THE LUCKY

Though there is now about $9,000,000,000 worth of gold in the possession of civilized man, it is generally accepted as a fact that the gold that has been taken from the earth is not worth what has been spent in its pursuit.

Many men have devoted lifetimes to searching for "pay dirt," but how many fortunes can be traced back to the lucky strike of some suffering prospector? Innumerable shafts have been sunk in lonesome mountainides without finding yellow ore. He who wanders among the solitudes of the Rockies is quite likely to encounter the scars left on hillsides and in the gullies by prospectors who have worked claims that never produced.

Claims that proved bonanzas were few and far between. It was only the occasional strip of sand that yielded its yellow dust profitably, and in most cases even it was soon exhausted. On the whole, more has been spent in the quest of gold than was ever realized from it.

In this respect speculation and other forms of gambling are like prospecting for gold. The losses always exceed the winnings. Fabulous seem the winnings in the great lotteries of Europe, but the money that goes into them far exceeds that which comes out in prizes. Fortunes were made in the stock boom and for every fortune won many fortunes were lost.

A GOOD RESOLUTION

What would happen if an employee of a bank should tell its patrons to do their banking business elsewhere, or if a salesman in a store should whisper to the customers that prices were lower and quality higher at another mercantile establishment? In either case the disloyal employee would lose his job and the respect of all.

But isn't the citizen who trades out of town just as disloyal to his home town as the employee who deprives his employer of business? Those who buy by mail or go away to shop are telling the patrons of their town that they could do better elsewhere. They take away from the home town merchants not only their own business but that of others. Like bargain-hunting and window-shopping, buying at home, with practice, because a good habit just as out-of-town trading grows upon one as a bad habit. And it is feared that most mail order and other foreign buying is from force of habit rather than from any hope of profit or gain in satisfaction. Seldom is there a legitimate excuse for trading elsewhere than at home.

What would be the dividends payable to New Castle if every citizen on December 31, 1933, could truthfully say he or she had not violated a community resolution for 1933 to "buy at home"? The extra dividends that would accrue to the benefit of the community and each of its citizens would be more business for its merchants, more money in circulation, more employment and more prosperity for all.

So live that you never will care a whoop how much alienists charge.

The American people have short memories. Let's see, who was that fellow Jimmy Walker, anyhow?

The speakasy may have originated at the last Chicago World's Fair but one won't have to at the next.

NOSES

That woman sitting across the way in the street car has an exceedingly handsome nose. Didn't you notice that? . . . Well, she has. And she was a beautiful young woman once. How do I know? Did I know her when she was younger? Certainly not; but I can see what I can see, can I not? Her cheeks are not as firm as they were; they lack that lovely precision of youth. Her eyes have little crinkly lines around them. Her lips are no longer red. Her hair is beautifully white, but, after all, white hair is not waving auburn hair, and I'll not be insisting it is. . . . But her nose! You see those perfectly curved nostrils. You observe the straight line of it from her eyes to the tip? There's a nose! . . . Handsome, you must admit. . . . Didn't I tell you?

Very useful, the nose. Warns you, guides you, checks your vagrant curiosity, gets you into trouble, too. You stick it into other people's business, and sometimes you're sorry you did. You pick up many interesting, not altogether proper, facts—of gossip, human endeavor, human foibles and quibbles and such.

All sorts of noses do that. Pug noses, rounded noses, narrow noses, flat noses, big noses, little noses, thick noses, ugly noses, handsome noses. Funny noses, imposing noses. I looked through a book of famous quotations for something about noses. It had nothing. I turned the pages of Solomon's Song, and he mentioned his beloved's nose but once, saying it was "as the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward the tower of Damascus. And what kind of compliment was that? And once it was said of Cleopatra that the history of the world would have been different had her nose been longer, or shorter.

So much for noses. Exceedingly important. Not sufficiently appreciated.

Where's that woman with the handsome nose who sat across the way? While I was thinking of noses she left the car and I didn't see her. . . . What a shame!

Sales Tax Strongly Upheld As Hoover Advises Support

Change in Public Sentiment Is Observed Because Of Failure Of Other Forms Of Taxation To Produce Adequate Revenues

Urging enactment of a general sales tax in his message to congress, President Hoover becomes identified with a general movement in favor of this form of taxation, which was erected at the adoption of the present currency bill. It is asserted that public opinion has changed as a result of failure of existing tax measures to produce adequate revenues. It is also believed that the sales tax is easily applied.

"This form of levy is fair and equitable," thinks the KANSAS CITY STAR TIMES. "It would not be burdensome upon certain groups and disturbing in its operation. With food and clothing essentials exempted, it could not, through any reasonable interpretation, become a hardship upon the poor. It would not replace the income tax, which also is sound in principle, and it would effect a wide and easy distribution of the tax load. Opposition to the sales tax has diminished as its merits have become better understood. It is a safe solution of the budget problem." The JERSEY CITY JOURNAL observes that "the big point for the moment is that a sales tax has now the president's approval," and that "even a diluted sales tax is a move in the right direction," for "it makes every purchaser realize that the more economical government becomes, the less it will cost."

Recalling the former argument that this form of taxation "shifted the burden to the poor," the SAN JOSE MERCURY HERALD avers that "the common interest in security justifies tax sacrifices for the workers as the means for the new plan." The BOSTON TRANSCRIPT believes that "much of the opposition to this tax has been political, due to fear," but that there is "a greatly changed public opinion," since "some of the states have provided object lessons in the expediency of the plan." The OAKLAND TRIBUNE predicts that "the old debate will be renewed and will demonstrate whether or not there has been a change in sentiment." The OAKLAND CITY OKLAHOMAN advises that "the proposal will meet formidable opposition, and may fail, but its possibilities cannot be offset by higher income taxes when incomes dwindle." The BOISE IDAHO STATESMAN is among the few opponents of the measure, when it argues, "It would be more appropriate to call the sales tax a consumers' tax. But it is not even a fair consumers' tax, because the man of a small or average income spends a larger proportion of his income for necessities purchased from retailers than the man of large income. He is, therefore, the victim of discrimination."

Several papers comment on the trial of this form of taxation in Canada. The LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL records that the neighboring country "has had this tax since 1921, and from an experimental measure it has developed into a probably permanent feature."

The SAN ANTONIO EVENING NEWS finds that "the levy is not popular there, but it generally is accepted as the least among various taxation evils." The ASHLAND INDEPENDENT concludes that in the Dominion, "business likes the sales tax, not because it likes taxation but because the sales tax is preferred."

In this country, the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION feels that "there is no question that the business world generally is prepared to welcome this levy—that is, a tax of low rate collected on the finished manufactured product." The ASBURY PARK PRESS suggests that it will allow for more accurate estimates of the necessary rates. That paper adds that "the present system, in attempting to tax so-called luxuries, makes unreasonable distinctions between commodities, taxing some very severely and exempting many that should be taxed."

The OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES calls it "the least bothersome of taxes, and, in the main, the least burdensome." The WALL STREET JOURNAL points out that "the rate could be made low so as to impose no hardship on the taxpayer and that a substantial producer—that is, what is wanted in any taxing system." This financial paper also holds that it "comes nearer than anything we have yet had to answering the description of a tax 'levied on the principle of capacity to pay'."

The PORT HURON TIMES HERALD makes comparison with the present revenue bill, in which "special revenues are inequitable and discriminatory," and "have not yielded and do not promise to yield anything like enough revenue for our needs." That paper concludes: "What the general sales tax will do is perhaps no less problematical, but it will be likely to boost the government's revenue to something like the amount which will be needed."

The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL says: "The excise tax has not been as productive as expected. Its expansion to eliminate injustice and discrimination would bolster revenues."

"It is the fairest possible way of obtaining money for the expense of government," declares the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, with the advice that "if it could be carried to its ultimate thule of an income that could be properly divided for county, state and national government cost, it would be approaching the ideal." The SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE argues: "Ultimately congress will have to come to a sales tax. The secretary's report on collections for the last year clearly shows that the water level has sunk very low in the income tax well. It is useless to talk of raising the needed revenue by soaking the big incomes. Leaving out all other considerations, there are not enough big incomes. What were the big incomes are no longer so big and there are now far fewer of them."

"This congress," in the opinion of the APPLETON POST-CRESCENT, "did exactly those things, by way of delay, avoidance and extravagance, to make such a tax probably unavoidable. And the odd part of it is that many defeated congressmen would have been re-elected had they not temporized and compromised and surrendered to expediency but boldly and intelligently pointed out the right road to follow in order to actually balance our skyrocketing budget."

They tell a story about Mark Twain during his early days as a San Francisco news-hound, when things were pretty lean. Mark, holding a cigar-box under his arm, was standing gazing into a shop window.

A lady friend approached and said: "I always see you with a cigar-box under your arm. I'm afraid you're smoking too much, Mr. Clemens."

"It isn't that," retorted Mark. "I'm moving again."

Do you get enough out-of-door exercise during cold weather? You walk back and forth to your place of business if you live in a small town, but that of itself is not long enough in the open air, even though you live near enough to go home to lunch.

Four miles a day or its equivalent and eight glasses of water a day if you are a normal person in good physical condition and want to keep well.

Don't walk till you are tired and come home and lie down. If your muscles are tired from walking use another set of muscles to get rested and drink plenty of water.

This is not supposed to be a health column. But is a good thing to have a few less jobs in the ribs these days to really appreciate the necessity for taking advantage of the bright days to do more walking.

The winter months may keep you indoors more or less. Get out now while you can and enjoy the fresh air—store it up for future use—it is free.

You will be surprised how much difference you'll find in getting the habit of walking rather than riding when it comes to a clear brain for thinking out your problems.

And one man said: "All hope is dead. And I wish that I were, too! For rough is the way. And the skies are gray. And I can't get work to do. I've lost the things which I thought were mine. And it's now no use for the sun to shine."

In similar straits. Betrayed by the fates. And stripped of his worldly gear. Another man said: "Well, I'm far from dead. And I don't want to die this year! There's a lot proved false which I thought was true. But I want to be here when the sun breaks through."

All men must choose. Of these opposite views. And it's easy enough to fail. If you're willing to quit. You can argue for it.

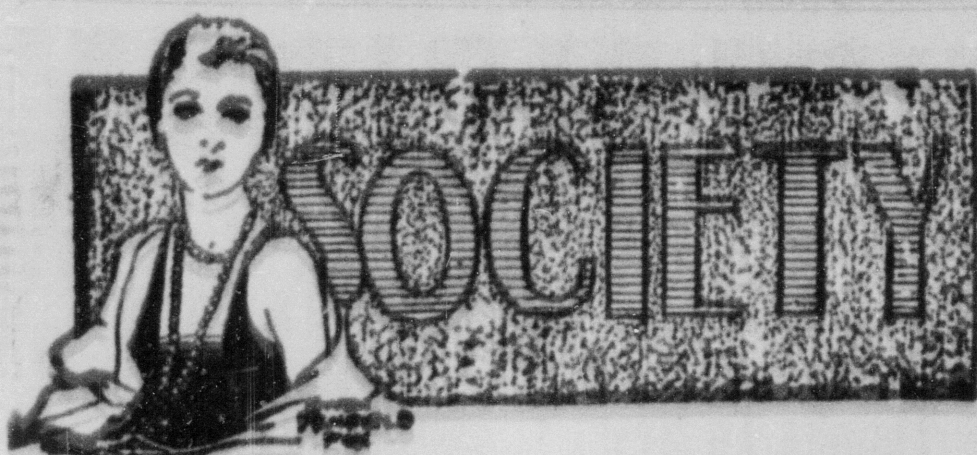

With a truly deplorable tale. But always the difficult thing to do is to stick to a problem and see it through.

There's a lot proved false which I thought was true. But I want to be here when the sun breaks through."

Here Are Ways To Improve Your Speech

Slang And Colloquialisms Are Scored By Prof. Carver In Speech

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH Dec. 17—"It is me" may be pleasing to the ear but the popular usage of it and of similar colloquialisms will never make the expressions correct, in the opinion of George Carver, professor of English at the University of Pittsburgh.

Carver made this comment on a list of "popular expressions" approved as good colloquial usage by 229 judges in a survey completed by the National Council of Teachers of English. Carver agreed with the survey in that social changes affect grammar but insists there must necessarily be a recognized standard. Unless the new form expresses the idea better, its usage should be discouraged, he believes.

"Slang and colloquial expressions are the feeders for a language," Carver explained. "As the spirit of the age changes, new words and new phrases are necessary to express the changing spirit."

But the professor insists "who are you looking for?" and "invite whomever you wish" fail to express the idea as well as "whom are you looking for?" and "invite whomever you wish."

But the person who repeatedly says "it is me" instead of "I" is guilty of "just plain slovenliness," the professor concluded.

"The Boomerang" Subject Of Sermon

Dr. G. S. Bennett, Who Was Born In Australia, Will Use Weapon As Theme Of Sermon

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian Church, on the square, will have an unusually interesting theme for his sermon Sunday evening at 7:45 when he will speak on "The Boomerang."

Dr. Bennett, who was born in Australia, will tell of the weapons of the Australian aborigines, how they are used as instruments of warfare and also for hunting by the natives.

The weapons, as handled by the Australians, always return to the hand of the thrower and in this connection Dr. Bennett will link his sermon with Bible texts.

Pollock Children Star In Program

Parents, Friends In Hall As Graders Go Through Indian Pageant

A crowded school lobby of parents and friends saw 46 of the Pollock elementary school's 5A pupils climax one of their most ambitious study projects in an auditorium program Friday—what they really saw were the painted red men and their squaws of Pollock's imaginative Black Foot reservation.

The Home street building's exercises brought a climax to an educational classroom project that originated early this semester when the history classes reached the study of the American Indian.

Not alone did the Pollock children engage in text book study, and the auditorium assembly of yesterday amply convinced an appreciative audience that demonstration can convey a lesson as well.

Teachers Direct Work

The completion of the enlightening pageant of the Indian mode of living brought a correlation of the different subjects the pupils are taught—they were trained in the historical part by Miss Sylvia Martin, teacher of history; in music by Miss Ruth Weir; in art by Miss Roseline Saffner, and were rehearsed for their auditorium appearance by Miss Anne Shiffrin.

The colorful parade of the red-man's thrilling life was written in Pollock's English class.

Economy was the keynote of the day's activities, for not one cent was expended during the entire semester for the costumes and outfits that the Black Footers wore. Teachers and pupils worked together to create inexpensive costumes of their own. For instance, macaroni was chipped into bits and then colored as attractive beads.

In the history classroom, where the project closed yesterday got its start, novel sand table reservations, outfitted with teepees and everything, have been arranged. Parents viewed their elaborate classroom displays after the program.

Superintendent of Schools C. C. Green was among the visitors yesterday, who watched the graders perform as follows:

"How the Study of the Indian Linked with All Departments of the School," Miss Sylvia Martin.

First announcer, Charles Navejo; second announcer, Victor Apostolic; and third announcer, Frank Cennock.

"Indian Health," Eldred Mastern.

"Indian Appreciation of Nature," Mary Elko.

Flag salute, Raymond Augustine.

Indian Chiefs, Philip DeCarbo, Dominick Cherrozzi and Triston De Gilo.

Warriors: Thomas Brown, Tony Bonapane, John Gennock, Lawrence Cucerone, Joe Monoco, James Nucci, Guido Rozzi and Joe Macierella.

Squaws: Phyllis Meranda, Josephine Pisula, Clara Lamarella, Bertha Tempesta and Rose Natale.

Winter Buffalo: Angelo Cozza.

Walk on the Water: Anna Pazzone.

Crazy Snake: Raymond Augustine.

A girl: Vincenza Chirumbola.

Squanto: Ralph Graziano.

Medicine Man: John Tuscano.

KILLS SELF SO WIFE CAN GET INSURANCE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 17.—According to testimony offered Friday by his widow, Mrs. Mary Knepp, her husband, Lewis Knepp, 32, probably committed suicide so that his wife could collect $2,000 insurance to pay debts.

Just previous to the time he drained a glass of poison Knepp had remarked to his wife: "Sometimes I think you'd be better off if I would be out of your way, then you would have enough to pay all your debts."

The three favored the tombstone plans, declaring that one should be purchased out of the proceeds of the sale of personal property December 23. George, the "trigger man," wept as he gave Ruble the date of his father's birth—May 2, 1865.

SLAYERS OF SIRE WEEP OVER PLAN FOR TOMBSTONE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 17.—Three sons of Isley S. Tate, now in the Fayette county jail awaiting disposition of their case on charges of slaying their father, broke down and cried this afternoon when they were approached by Administrator W. J. Ruble relative to a tombstone for the victim.

The three favored the tombstone plans, declaring that one should be purchased out of the proceeds of the sale of personal property December 23. George, the "trigger man," wept as he gave Ruble the date of his father's birth—May 2, 1865.

Snapshots Of Street Scene In Downtown

Scraps of street scene as caught by eye of reporter in downtown crowd today:

Two ragged boys following man carrying miniature fire wagon. To the embarrassment of the gentleman they were eagerly devouring the wagon with sparkling eyes and uttering a series of "gee whizzes" and "can you imagine that! License plates and everything on it. Gee! . . . Blind man with cup. . . Heavy set man carrying loosely wrapped package, out of the bundle peeked some red material and part of what might represent white whiskers. . . Very wee girl with nose pressed flat against window where dolls were on display. . . Big police dog in fancy car wearing red ribbon around neck. . . Elevator girl's monotone "going up" drifting out to passerby on sidewalk. . . Old woman in black with both arms tightly clasped around gay colored package. . . "But I have a whole week left to be good in," a spic and span little lady was explaining to her father. . . Five grown-ups transformed into boys again while watching electric train weave in and out of tunnels on a store counter. . . Children (aren't we all?) clamoring to visit Toyland. . . One had letter clutched tightly in hand. Closer inspection revealed letter's address—"Sandy Claws, North Pole!"

"Red Virgin" Freed

Mlle. Fant Rozec, leader of the Breizate Nationalist Party of France, is shown after her release by police when no proof could be brought to show that she was implicated in the recent attempt on the life of Premier Edouard Herriot. Known as the "Red Virgin," Mlle. Rozec and several of her followers were arrested when a railroad bridge over which Herriot's train was passing was bombed.

State Brewers Hold Meeting

State Brewers' Association Elects New Officers At Philadelphia

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—Moribund since prohibition, the Pennsylvania State Brewers' Association today began a new life after a meeting here at which the men who produced 8,000,000 barrels of beer in 1919 expressed optimism over the outlook for beer legislation.

With State Senator Joseph Trainer presiding, the brewers expressed satisfaction with the 3.2 per cent recommendation of the House Ways and Means committee, and announced they would not attempt to interfere with the progress of the present legislation.

Senator Trainer succeeded to the temporary presidency upon the death of Hans Ridal, Pittsburgh. Fred C. Klusman, Pittsburgh, was elected president at yesterday's reorganization meeting.

George W. Bergner, Philadelphia, was elected vice-president, and George Edell, Brownsville, was chosen treasurer.

Directors elected included Frank W. Rieker, Lancaster; George Weaver, Wilkes-Barre; William Fell, Philadelphia; Edward Schmiedheiser, Philadelphia; F. U. Schmidt, Pittsburgh; Frank Maddas, Jeanette; J. A. Friday, Pittsburgh; P. J. Cusack, Scranton; D. L. Lynch, Wilkes-Barre; P. H. Jordan, Scranton; Frank Hahn, Jr., DuBois; A. L. Shenango High Football Team To Be Banquetted

Appreciation Dinner Is Planned For Tuesday Night, December 20

Shenango high school's football team, class B champions of the county, will be feted Tuesday night, December 20, when a "football appreciation" dinner will be held in the school at 6:30 o'clock. The dinner is sponsored by the Alumni association and will undoubtedly be attended by a crowd of students and fans of the township.

The general committee in charge of the evening's events consists of Ruth Weinschenk, general chairman; Delma Houk, Marie Hogue, Ida Cowmede and Jane George. A real culinary treat is in store for the banqueters and the program is said to offer something novel in the way of entertainment.

Shenango high school has had football but five years but in that time has turned out some good teams. This year's team was the best since the sport was initiated at the school, the team winning the class B championship of the county. Only for the perversity of Fate, the team would have had an unbeaten record for the season, losing its last game to Evans City in a weird contest.

Coach Ed Raney had a real squad this year, one that put out some crack football during the season. Because of the record compiled by the team, the Alumni association and fans desired to show their appreciation by a banquet.

BEAVER, Pa., Dec. 17.—County officials Friday afternoon voluntarily accepted a 10 per cent cut in their monthly salaries to become effective in January, 1933.

Those taking the cut were county commissioners, controller, treasurer, prothonotary, register and recorder, sheriff and district attorney.

The officials in accepting the reductions described their move as an economy measure decided upon in view of the present buying power of the dollar and because of the financial condition of the county.

It was intimated by the several department heads that a further revision in the salaries of employees under their jurisdiction was being considered. The salary board meets in regular session the first week in January and the revisions which may be made at that time will doubtless be downward.

SIXTEEN ROOM HOUSE MOVED

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—Members of the first regiment, U. S. Army Engineers, master the near-impossible near here when they succeeded in moving a 16-room, 240-ton house from New Jersey to Delaware without knocking a picture from the walls or breaking a single cup in the china closet.

The two-story dwelling, located at Fort Mott, on the New Jersey side, stood 50 feet back from the river. Houses were needed at Fort Dupont in Delaware and were vacant and useless at Fort Mott.

The dwelling was "rolled" to the water's edge on rounded logs and then lashed securely aboard three barges. Its weight caused the barges to sink within six inches of their water lines. On the Delaware side the house was rolled from the barges upon a specially constructed dock.

Bootlegging Of Eggs Is Latest

(International News Service)
SHAMOKIN, Pa., Dec. 17.—The latest addition to the series of "bootlegging" comes in the form of "egg bootlegging," which has yielded a profitable harvest to its operators at the expense of the gullible here.

Driving trucks laden with "hen fruit," numerous vendors have invaded the borough and disposed of their produce to purchasers at from five to 10 cents a dozen under the current market price.

Upon cracking the eggs, many of the unsuspecting purchasers were forced to flee for air as the putrid aroma gave evidence of the latest in racket.

The general opinion is that the eggs are part of a large store that were "salted down" during low market prices and now, despite their condition, have been brought out to realize 100 per cent profit.

Good Times Coming

History shows that after every depression the value of homes has advanced to a higher level.

For that reason if not for many others it is important—very important—that people who are making payments on a loan keep up those payments FIRST and hold to their homes.

At the Dollar Savings Association as payments are made the "rent" or interest gets less. Every one must have SOME place to live.

Alleges Loss Of His Windpipe

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 17.—For the alleged loss of his wind-pipe, Ira Elliott, 30, of Grantville, is endeavoring to obtain $35,000 damages in Dauphin county court from the Metropolitan-Edison Company.

Elliott says he was employed by the East Hanover Telephone Company and came into contact with a 2200-volt tension line while scaling a pole to make repairs for the phone concern. The current entered his right wrist and passed through his body, burning out his windpipe, he avers.

Elliott said his claim for $35,000 damages is based on grounds that the electric company was careless in maintaining the lines, which are attached to the same pole as the telephone wires.

SEEK TO CUT COSTS

Dear Editor:

Many thanks to the better thinking class of people in our city and in Lawrence County, who are at present trying, and eventually will make some adjustment of present conditions. They are making an impression on present office holders in an effort to reduce salaries and taxes principally through the Tax Justice League. Eventually, they may reduce the number of officer holders.

In regard to the tri-ennial assessment on real estate. That is no one man job, but should require the services of three men. If they would speed up a little while on duty, the cost would be no greater than at present.

Let us go back and start all over again. We might not have to go as far as January 2, 1776, when the United States raised her first flag. Hereafter, we will have to check our speed a little. If our forefathers had left the country in the same position as it is in now, 50 years ago, where would we be today?

New Castle is noted for its many churches and good schools. The sustained wholesome atmosphere gained by habitual attendance in our churches will drive out criminal impulses, and until the men who are in political power in this country are God-fearing church members, we are not going to see much improvement.

G. D. GLOSNER.

Another Trade Looming, Stars Are Involved

St. Louis Cardinals Dickering For Star Pitcher Is Understanding

McCarthy WILL REST ON LAURELS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports
Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Unless something unforeseen intervenes, and my understanding is that it won't, the St. Louis Cardinals are within a few strokes of the pen of completing a trade of outstanding importance, perhaps within a few hours, certainly not later than Monday. The probabilities are that the break will come some time today. One of the men involved is a recognized star whose identity I am not at liberty to disclose, being deemed that premature publicity might have an adverse effect upon final negotiations, now in progress.

Big Trade Looming

However, I don't mind saying that if the trade is carried through on the tentative basis established at a late hour last night, the Cardinal pitching staff will be strengthened materially.

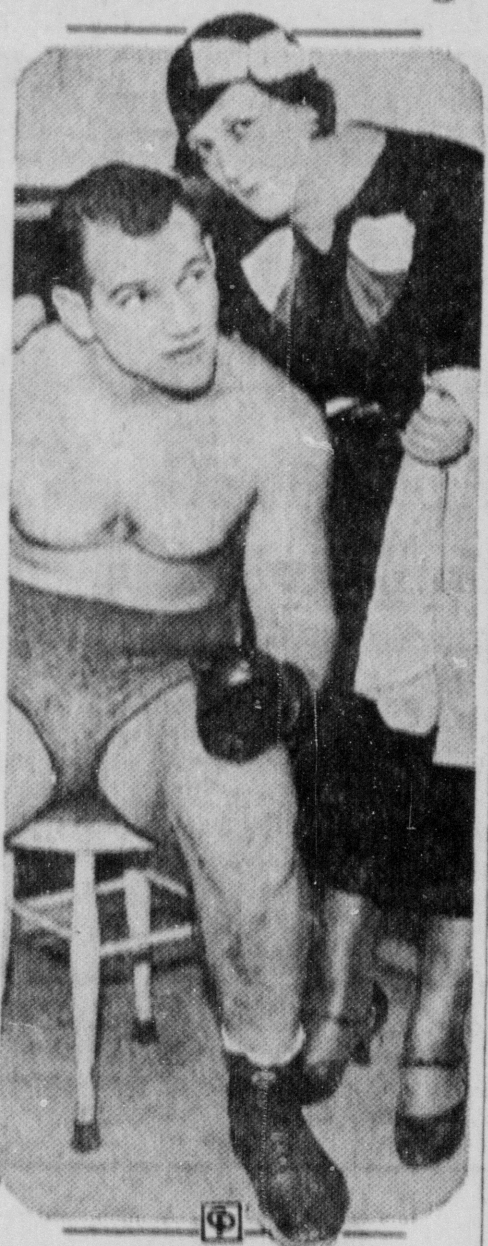

This was one of the last lingering echoes of the baseball meeting this week and their general bluster and upsurge. Another was the temporary abandonment of the proposed Brooklyn-Clint deal, though both have left the door open, not as an invitation, you understand, but just in case somebody forgot an umbrella.

A third came from a member of the Yankee official family and professed to state that Mr. Joseph McCarthy is more than content with the fact that he has made no attempt to better his hand during the draw.

McCarthy Confident

It seems Joseph feels that a team that won a world's championship in four consecutive games ought to be able to win a pennant in the next 154. It seems, too, that he thinks Seaver will be the best third baseman in the league last year and that it would be ill-advised to try to improve upon perfection. He is also understood to see Ben Chapman as a ranking star next season and either Larry or Crosetti as a first-class shortstop. Moreover, he is quoted as saying that Combs will be good for "years," meaning not one, but several or one after the other.

He's Still the "King"

Though defeated twice by Primo Carnera, Italian man mountain, Kingfish Levinsky will some day be heavyweight champion, believes his sister-manager, Mrs. Lena Levy. Here's Lena whispering words of encouragement into the King's cuffed ear as he prepares for his next test.

St. Andrews Will Battle Merchants

St. Andrews Church Team
Meets Wampum Merchants Here Tonight

St. Andrews church basketball team has a tough assignment to fill tonight when they tangle with the powerful Wampum Merchants at St. Mary's floor. The big game will start at 8:15 o'clock, but there is a preliminary game at 7:15 o'clock that brings together the St. Andrews Reserves and the Second U. P. team of the New Castle Church League.

There will be plenty of basketball in these two games for the most rabid of fans.

Calvary-Harmony Floor Winners

Calvary church basketball team handed the Mt. Herman team a 19 to 9 setback and Harmony won by a forfeit from Oak Grove in two Shenango-Slippery Rock church basketball league games Thursday night at the Shenango high floor.

The Oak Grove team did not appear for a regularly scheduled game and thereby forfeited the game. The summary of the only game played:

Calvary 19 Mt. Herman 9
Marshall F..... Ziegler
Pinner F..... Baldwin
F. Shultz C..... Thompson
Cowmeadow G..... Speed
Maxwell G..... Dean
Subs—Calvary, Pinner, L. Shultz, Watson.
Field goals—Marshall 4, Pinner, Shultz 2, Cowmeadow, Thompson, Dean.

Tifereth Israel Play Highland B

Three games will be played by church basketball loop teams tonight at the Y, according to Director of Athletics MacNichols. The games to be staged follow: First Mt. E. vs First Baptist B. Highland U. P. vs Epworth M. E. A., and Tifereth Israel vs Highland U. P. B.

New Castle To Play Union On Tuesday Night

New Castle High Will Have Union Team For Opponents In Second Game

New Castle High School basketball team will play their second game of the season at George Washington Junior High floor next Tuesday evening when they tackle the fast quintet from Union High coached by Dave Boyd. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is not at all pleased with the showing of his team in the opening game against Pittsburgh South, notwithstanding the fact that New Castle squeaked through with a 26 to 23 victory. What the New Castle team needs is speed and lots of it. With another week of training the New Castle team should start clicking better.

Fred Schlegel and Dick McIlwaine will solve the center problem for Bridenbaugh, and it is likely that this pair will alternate at the center position all year. Both boys are on about a par. They both need experience and when they get started New Castle is going to have a couple of sweet looking jump-up men.

Both New Castle and Union won their opening games and will be out to make it two straight next Tuesday evening. There is a lot of friendly rivalry between the two schools since the instigation of football relations, and for that reason a good crowd is expected to see the game at Washington gym.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Rogers Hornsby is spending an hour or two daily in a St. Louis gymnasium to fit himself for his next year in baseball. He is 37 and hopes that he can beat out all opposition for second base on the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jimmy Caras lost to Pasquale Natale in the national pocket billiard titular play at New York last night. The score was 125 to 3. Natale made a run off of 67 in the eleventh inning.

Alleging he participated in a match under the name of Joe Boland, the New York state commissioner has suspended Joe Banovic.

Sammy Fuller was stopped in the eighth round last night by Jimmy McLarnin and Baby Joe Gans won from Eddie Wolfe at New York. McLarnin outweighted Fuller 145 1/2 to 136.

Dan Howley, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds will pilot Toronto, International league club next season.

"Wild Bill" Jelliffe, Los Angeles professional, demonstrates his new "trouble shooter" club which is a double-faced approach putter with a very short handle, enabling the player to shoot out of tangled brush instead of having to accept a two-stroke penalty because of impossibility of playing the lie with the usual long-handled club.

Wilson-Fields Battle Monday

Three Other Good Slam-Bang Bouts On Local Fistic Card

FIRST BOUT TO START AT 9 P. M.

Everything is ready for the punch duels Monday night at Castle bowl, the grand finale of which, will be a 10 round battle between Ross Fields of Cleveland and Jackie Wilson of Pittsburgh, two of the best bantamweights in the country. There will be three other six round bouts, the first of which will start at nine o'clock.

Fields and Wilson stand at the head of the bantamweight class in this vicinity. The last time Fields fought Wilson the Pittsburgh puncher got the decision and Fields hopes to win Monday night. He may and he may not as Wilson has been defeated in only one of his last 11 fights.

Young Terry and Marty Toukonin who fought a rattling good six round bout several weeks ago have been rematched owing to the demand of the fans.

Their first encounter teemed with action and when the decision was announced it did not meet with favor so the issue will be settled Monday night for all time.

Gloves will fly like snowflakes except with the force of bricks when Merle Gibson and Homer Gray, light heavyweights step out in a six round bout.

According to some fans Homer is in for a rather tough evening but Gray believes he will be able to stop Merle, something to which Merle will not agree.

There will be a six round preliminary between Tommy Kilrain of Akron and Pee Wee Carney of this city. They will weigh 128 pounds.

Members of the World War Veterans association of Lawrence county yesterday installed three huge furnaces in the bowl and no difference how cold the weather may be the bowl will be warm.

They decided also that the show should not commence until a few minutes after nine o'clock on account of stores remaining open. By starting late businessmen can witness the show.

According to word received here today Fields will do his last workout tomorrow at Robert Latera's gymnasium. Wilson will wind up his training at Pittsburgh.

Pitt Panthers Leave Sunday On Coast Trip

Pitt-Alumni Game Today Will Put Team In Proper Spirits For Big Game

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—Pitt Panthers meet a team of old grads on the gridiron here this afternoon in a game carded by Coach Jack Sutherland on the theory all work and no play isn't good for football players preparing for a Rose Bowl game.

Ever since the anthem got the call to meet Southern California in the traditional New Year's battle, Sutherland's charges have been drilling relentlessly for the game. Coach Sutherland induced Ray Montgomery to form an alumni eleven so the Pitt varsity could get a bit of relief from routine practice in an actual game.

Pitt leaves here tomorrow night on the first leg of its long drawn out Pacific journey. Monday afternoon, the squad will change trains at St. Louis for Dallas. A Tuesday practice is carded for the Texas city.

Wednesday night, the Panthers reach Tucson, Ariz., where a nine-day camp will be established before the team moves into Pasadena for a final workout in the Rose bowl.

Roster of the players to make the trip was to be announced after the alumni game.

McLarnin Kayoes Sammy Fuller In New York Ring

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—That fine broth of a lad with the dancing blue eye, James Patrick McLarnin, is quite ready, thank you, to meet Jackie Fields for the welterweight title. Or if Jackie is unavailable, the minstrel boy will gladly take on any one else in the house irrespective of weight, color or previous condition of servitude.

They flocked to Madison Square Garden last night more in pity than anything else to see James Patrick box that sturdy little bootblack, Sammy Fuller, who comes from the city of the cabots and the cod.

But with a hey nonny nonny and a hot cha cha James Patrick hopped into the ring and played the wearing of the green all over the quaint features of Sammy Fuller, then cleanly and artistically knocked him out in the eighth round.

Georgia Tech And California Battle In Game On Coast

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 17.—A free wheeling, wide open game of football was in prospect here today as the rambling wrecks from Georgia Tech and California's Golden Bears got last minute instructions from their respective coaching staffs before taking the field in their third inter-sectional clash.

With each squad holding one decision, the "rubber" game promised to be hard fought and sensational. For both coaches have indicated their charges will go after touchdowns in wholesale lots.

Ingram has switched his starting lineup to include his best pitching and catching combination, Schalbach to Castro, and Alexander has four men behind the line who can pass and catch 'em, so he says.

The invaders, outweighted considerably by the home town boys, are depending on that good old southern fight and surprises to account for a victory, but the odds slightly favor the Bears.

Mt. Jackson High Split Two Games With East Brook

Mt. Jackson Boys Win First
League Game 34-19—East Brook Girls Win

Mt. Jackson high school basketball teams split even in two league games played last night at the Mt. Jackson floor. The Mt. Jackson boys defeated East Brook 34 to 19, and the East Brook girls handed the Mt. Jackson lasses a 33 to 11 defeat.

It was the opening game of the class A schedule for Mt. Jackson and Coach R. D. Spears put a classy looking Mt. Jackson team on the floor. East Brook was unable to get going in the first half and made but one field goal. The Mt. Jackson team was never in danger.

The East Brook girls proved too strong for the Mt. Jackson girls in the preliminary game.

Union Defeats Wampum 31-27

Union High Floor Team
Opens Season With Victory Over Wampum

SCHAAS-BORON ARE OUTSTANDING

Union High School basketball team opened their 1932-33 season last night at the Wampum High floor by taking the measure of a scrappy Wampum High quintet 31 to 27. The game was largely an experimental one for Coach David M. Boyd of Union High who used two complete teams.

Wampum shot into the lead at 5 to 3 as the first period drew to a close, but Union led by Schaas and Boron opened up with an attack on the hoops in the second period that put the Union ahead 18 to 12 as the first half closed. In the third period Union kept up the good work scoring nine more points to put two for Wampum, making the score 25 to 14 at the end of the third period.

Wampum Rallies

In the fourth period Wampum came to life and led by Ferrucci made things interesting for Union High by scoring 13 points while the best Union could get was six. The Wampum rally was only halted by the gun that ended the battle.

Ferrucci was the outstanding Wampum player with 18 of the 27 points, while for the Union team the playing of Schaas, Boron, and Phillips was the best. Union foul tossing was a little off color with 7 out of 22 attempts. Wampum made 9 out of 18 at the foul line.

The summary:

Union 31 Wampum 27
Sleseski F..... Ferrucci
Meechal F..... McMichael
Phillips C..... Koster
Snizek G..... Beatrice
Morrison G..... Demark

Score by periods:
Union 3 13 9 6—31
Wampum 5 7 2 13—27

Subs—Union: Boron, Meechal, Schaas, Bozar, Georgacz, Monico, Allen, White, Wampum: Poolins, Wardman, Downey, Novosel, Field.

Goals—Boron 3, Schaas 4, Phillips 3, Morrison 2, Ferrucci 7, DeMark 2, Fouls—Union, 7 out of 22, Wampum, 9 out of 18. Referee—Sid Lockley. Timers and Scorers—Mottinger and McGrew.

YOUR MONEY BACK!!

Pennzoil Motor Oil is so good that it is sold by Wadding's Service Stations under a written guarantee of satisfaction or your money back.

Pennzoil Motor Oil, double-refined for extra strength and toughness, ends oil failure and cuts repair bills. It lasts hundreds of miles farther than ordinary oils; and the correct grade of Pennzoil reduces gasoline consumption.

This winter, use tough-film Pennzoil, the all-year oil, and have both easy starting and the protection of full-bodied, full-strength oil.

Engine safety is too high a price to pay for the doubtful advantages of special oils.

Steady Progress
On Station Work

P. And L. E. Ready To Commence Excavation Of Tunnel Under Tracks

Steady progress is being made in the P. & L. E. station work here. Pile driving is almost completed and the actual tunnel work is on the verge of starting. On Friday afternoon the workmen were driving steel supports under the brick platform alongside the B. & O. station building in order that the platform will not crumble when the tunnel digging starts.

At the present time the B. & O. tunnel extends from the B. & O. station under the B. & O. westbound track. The plan of the P. & L. E. is to make an extension tunnel from the B. & O. eastbound track and the P. & L. E. westbound track.

In addition to the work at this point, another group of men is busy digging down to Liberty street at the south end of the overhead crossing. Their object is to create a Liberty street entrance to the P. & L. E. passenger platform similar to that owned by the B. & O.

Most Stocks Are Supported Around Their Previous Closing Mark

By LESLIE GOULD

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The stock market presented an uninspiring appearance in the short session today as the main body of stocks failed to break out of their trading rut. The majority of pivotal stocks, including American Telephone and the United States Steel issues, and Allied Chemical, were supported around their previous closings. Utilities advanced fractionally under the leadership of Columbia Gas on buying by traders based on the reports the company was negotiating a hookup with the New York Gas Improvement Co. and Columbia Gas for supplying natural gas to Philadelphia. Strength in Columbia brought firmness into United Corp., which holds a large block of stock.

Rail shares were steady but traders were deterred from activity by drop in car loadings and the impact of the Chicago wage conference.

The motors group was firm. Auburn gained fractionally. Strength in the motors is attributed to the nearness of the auto show when a rally is tradition. The outlook for next year, however, is for a bitter price war for control of the cheap car field. Chrysler fired the opening gun with reductions on its Plymouth, Chrysler stock was steady.

THRONG ENJOYS TEACHERS' PLAY AT WASHINGTON

"Oh, Professor!" Funds Help
Needy In Class Rooms;
Cast Makes Hit

With charity and a well-filled auditorium of spectators on the benefit end, the George Washington Junior high school's faculty play, "Oh, Professor!" was given last night in a manner that brought the teachers' merits into play.

The proceeds of the three-act comedy will be turned into Washington's own "free lunch fund," maintained for needy pupils unable to buy their own noon meals. An afternoon matinee was also presented.

Adding to the satisfaction which the play itself brought, were the termination numbers played by the senior high school orchestra under Prof. Joseph F. Replogle's direction. The play characters, every one a teacher, were coached by one of the faculty members who also filled a role. Miss Betty Glover. Stars might be drawn around the name of every player, for every one gave splendid support to his part.

"Oh, Professor!" was written by Katharine Kavanaugh, and the following talented cast of teachers took part:

Jake—J. C. Ward.
Miss Frederica—Frances Haydon.
Dr. Aristotle—J. W. Anderson.
Students:
Fluff—Helen Sankey.
Bertha—Lola Patterson.
Jean—Rose Uhl.
Belle—Dorothy Stadelhofer.
Michael Pemberton—Graham Patterson.
Professor Percival Courtwright—Fred Leslie.
Jimmy Anderson—George Deuel.
Patricia Patterson—Dorothy Jean Wallace.
Miss Fifi—Betty Glover.

Suit Entered For Personal Injuries

Fannie Wooley Files Action Against Wright Estate In Which She Asks $3,155

Fannie Wooley of 933 Warren avenue has filed a suit at the probate court's office against Tressa Wright and George Wright, executors of the late John Alexander Wright, in which she asks $3,155 for injuries sustained while coming out of the Wright market on East Washington street.

Plaintiff alleges that she had her arms full of bundles purchased in the store and was about to go out of the door when her foot caught on a pair of platform scales and she was thrown heavily to the floor.

As a result her left leg was injured below the knee. It is claimed that the injuries are of a permanent character.

It is alleged that the accident was due to the doorway and passage being filled with crates for the display of goods and the extension of the platform scales into the passage.

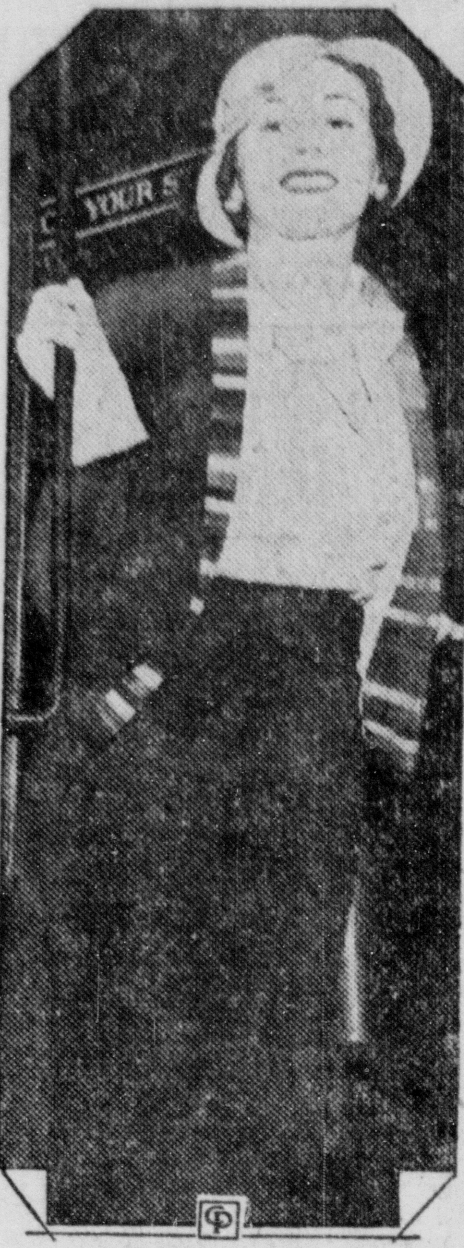

Mrs. Anna Russell
"Shot By A Dog"

(International News Service)
WAYNESBURG, Pa., Dec. 17.—The dubious distinction of being "shot by a dog" is held by Mrs. Anna Russell of Watertown, D. D., daughter of Mrs. Delilah Scott of Rogersville, near here.

Mrs. Russell emerged from a doorway into a street in Watertown just as a dog, confined in a parked car, stepped on the trigger of a double-barreled shotgun, setting off both barrels. The charge shattered a store display window and slightly wounded Mrs. Russell.

William F. Cody, known as Buffalo Bill, received a rank of colonel from the governor of Nebraska.

Rutter And Webster Deny Chicken Theft

Claim That They Were Not
With James Rutter When Chickens Were Stolen

The case of Dean Rutter and Clarence Webster, charged with the larceny of ten chickens from the farm of C. C. Wilson of Perry township, which has been on trial before Judge R. L. Hildebrand, in county court, went to the jury shortly before noon today.

Rutter and Webster both denied that they had stolen the chickens, but admitted being at the Rutter farm on the night when the chickens were brought in by James Rutter. They claimed that James Rutter, who turned state's evidence, and implicated them in the theft, had gone out alone after the chickens. They were present when four of the chickens were killed.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

For some time I've been promising myself a trip to some nearby city where the Disciples of Grapple and Grunt manhandle each other for varying periods, in a sport that is justly called wrestling. Some friends have insisted that wrestling has undergone a great moral change, that the methods have been changed and the ethics uplifted. In other words, that the Renaissance of Rasslin' was here.

Along with some friends the Great Experiment was made last night. We witnessed a complete card. Billed as wrestling, the bouts developed into a combination of football, boxing, weight lifting, mayhem, assault and battery, oratory, acting and plain and fancy tumbling.

If what we saw was wrestling, then I can see why bull fighting is barred in this country, it is too effeminate. To enjoy modern wrestling thoroughly, one must have a well developed set of sadistic tendencies, for what pass for grips and holds are merely an improvement upon the Spanish Inquisition.

They pull each other's hair, they twist each other's ankles and wrists, bounce the opponent's head on the floor, kick him in the stomach, clip him with the dangerous rabbit punch in back of the neck, whirl him above the head in the airplane spin and then drop him on the floor like a sack of middlings, park a shoe in his teeth and then push, and make a workmanlike attempt to break his back or at least maim him for life.

Alongside of it football isn't brutal, it isn't even virile, while boxing is a pastime to amuse small infants. Perhaps we're funny, but inflicting pain upon a human being, and wrecking splendid young bodies that were intended for some use in the world isn't rate sports here. If it is sport, then the colleges should give letters for tearing wings from flies. They can still "improve" the wrestling game. Let the wrestlers wear brass knuckles and fit their shoes up with cleats and spurs. At least it would add to the brutality.

If your neighbor has a haggard look in his eyes these mornings, if he seems to have no pep, no vim, and talks in an abstracted way, the answer is simple. He's been doing puzzles. The puzzle craze seems to have us all in its maw at the present time and like Mah Jong, anagrams, ping pong, and the other temporary disturbances, it is costing plenty of sleep.

It has been suggested to this column that one way of evening the country with the French would be to eschew the eating of French fried potatoes, French pastry, and that the girls quit wearing French curls.

Seriously, there is an attempt being made to induce Americans to refuse to buy French manufactured goods. One lad, who has a delicate taste in Christmas presents has always given French perfume, costing anywhere from fifteen to twenty dollars an ounce. For this Christmas at least he is buying American perfume.

Out around Princeton way, the folks are walking around with their chests expanded a couple of inches more. One of the local boys came through, J. Audley Boak was elected Master of the State Grange and for a year at least the mainspring of the grange will be in Lawrence county.

Pre-School Milk Distribution To Start Tuesday

Will Be Distributed To The Homes Of Those Receiving It In City

Announcement was made today by Miss Grace Ackerman, state nurse, that the distribution of milk provided by the state for children of the pre-school age whose parents are unable to provide it for them, will be started Tuesday, December 20, at the homes of the recipients. Those who have been getting the milk for pre-school members of their families at the school buildings will continue to do so on Monday but on Tuesday need not do so as the delivery will be made to the homes on and after that date. The local state nurses, Miss Ackerman and Mrs. Blanche Smith, have supervision of this milk that the state is providing both for the pre-school and the school children where the parents are unable to provide the same. This applies to the entire county.

It has been estimated that under the present plan the World War veterans will ultimately receive $80,000,000,000; more than four times what the war cost. However, these payments will not start for some time yet, and the veterans should be patient.

Arthur McGill P. T. A. Meets Friday Evening

Pupils Of School Present A Delightful Christmas Season Entertainment

Auditorium of the Arthur McGill school was well filled last evening with parents and friends of the students of the school on the occasion of the December meeting of the Parents-Teachers association of the school.

The feature of the evening was the Christmas program presented by pupils of the school under the supervision of Miss D. Mildred Burleson. Miss Margaret V. Preston and Miss Ruth Wilson, teachers in the school. The program was entitled "On Christmas Eve" and consisted largely in the presentation of carols and the story of Christmas and the Christ Child as interpreted from the folk lore of many lands. It was unfolded to the audience in the form of a dream of two poor little children from the start to the finish. It will be presented next Thursday to the student body of the school.

Mrs. L. B. Calvin, president of the McGill P. T. A., presided. The program of the evening was opened with The Christmas Story by Mrs. R. G. Magill.

Following the business session, the program of the children was presented. At the close of the evening Prof. R. G. Leslie was called upon and in a few well chosen remarks, presented Mrs. H. N. Drio, president of the association last year, with her past president's pin. She responded with best wishes for success of the school and association.

Announcement was made at the close of the evening program that Dr. H. Linwood Eisenberg, president of Slippery Rock State Teachers college, would be the speaker at the meeting of the association to be held Thursday, January 26.

Infant Bank Robbers Are Sentenced To State Reformatories

(International News Service)
BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Dec. 17.—Bloomburg's infant bank robbers were "sent away" Friday.

Reformatory sentences were imposed by Judge Charles C. Evans on John Harrington, scarcely ten years old, and his sister, Lillian, two years his junior, whom he made his partner in a brief but amazing career of petty crime.

John was ordered to Glen Mills Reformatory and Lillian was committed to the House of Good Shepherd. The tots broke into a local bank last Sunday in broad daylight by jimmying a ventilator in a washroom and stole two money bags containing Sunday School collections totaling about $11. Three other "breaks" were attributed to the pair.

The children's grief-stricken parents were present at the sentencing and answered questions put to them by the court. The bewildered prisoners said nothing.

Eight Remain In Wilkes-Barre Post

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 17.—Lorenzo Whitney, of Wilkes-Barre, one of the eight surviving members of Conyngham Post, No. 97, G. A. R., which originally listed 1100 members, was re-elected commander at the annual meeting here.

Although the large membership of bygone years has been sadly depleted, six of the eight members battled their way through the winter's first snowstorm to attend the meeting.

Reports that the Post will be disbanded are without foundation, Commander Whitney announced, and predicted that it will exist "to the last man."

Plan Wage Cut For City Employees

McKEESPORT, Pa., Dec. 17.—McKeesport city employees will get a 25 per cent cut for the last two weeks of 1932, if an ordinance proposed in council by Mayor George H. Lysle yesterday, passes its second reading today.

NEWARK, N. J.—A huge lobster that sunk its claws into a coast-guardman's leg when the latter stumbled over it on a dock in Newark, has been turned over to the New York Aquarium authorities who are checking to see if it is the biggest one ever captured.
